CROSSGENERATIONAL VARIABILITY OF RELATIVE CLAUSE CONSTRUCTIONS: BIZKAIA BASQUE

Dr. Ager Gondra, Professor of Linguistics, University of Miami

November 14, 2019 | FIU Modesto Maidique Campus | CBC 300 | 10:00 AM

This study examines syntactic variation in Relative Clause constructions among two groups of Bizkaia Basque speakers. The language of instruction the participants had in school draws the line that separates the two populations: the first population (Bizkaia Basque I) had Spanish as the language of instruction and no Standard Basque as a subject, while the second one (Bizkaia Basque II) had Standard Basque as the language of instruction and Spanish as a subject for four hours a week.

This event is free and open to the public.
