Actuarial Summer Internship: Actuarial interns are assigned a supervisor who will provide on-the-job training, guidance and feedback throughout the internship period. This structure affords the opportunity to work side-by-side with FSA's, ASA's and other Actuarial Associates.

Interns can expect to learn about IFRS accounting principles, the basics of life and health insurance, as well as reinsurance accounting and reserving methods. Interns will also have the opportunity to use actuarial software programs such as Risk Agility, and expand their knowledge of Excel, VBA, SQL, R, and other systems. Projects vary and are based on the current workload within the various departments. Examples of intern projects include, but are not limited to the following:

- Financial analysis and review
- Modelling of insurance products and reinsurance agreements with our client companies
- Maintaining and updating reinsurance deal level models
- Assisting in the development and maintenance of U.S. statutory and tax valuation systems
- Assisting in the development and maintenance of processes for traditional life reinsurance business
- Developing time series analysis of claim payments.

Additionally, as part of the internship experience at Hannover Re, interns will be able to hone their business communication and interpersonal skills through various networking opportunities.

Internship Locations: Opportunities are available for working fully remote or in the Orlando or Denver office on a hybrid basis.
